These are 37 inches wide, at $1.50 a yard, and for evening or ball costumes are unsurpassed, as they have the beautiful clinging effect so desirable in gowns.

Crepe de Chines.

Plain Indias.

A showy, inexpensive, serviceable waist or gown can be made from these silks, coming as they do in all shades, being soft in finish, adapt themselves admirably for evening costumes—

39c a Yard.

Applique Satin.

White applique on black, blue or pink ground. The richness of these can only be appreciated by seeing them. Uses are varied for yokes, waists, panels, etc.

Her Majesty's Corset.

You can try Her Majesty's Corset for 30 days, and if you find it at all not up to what we represent it or even up to what you expect it to be, we will cheerfully refund the money you pay us for it. This shows you what confidence we have in this remarkable corset.

THE STAFF OF CHIEF MARSHAL

For the "Dewey Day" Street Demonstration is Announced by Colonel White and

EMBRACES THE NAMES OF MANY

Efficient Workers Who Will Give Their Energies in Behalf of the Celebration.

Chief Marshal Robert White, in charge of the "Dewey Day" street demonstration, after several weeks of careful consideration, has announced his staff and division appointments, which are given below in General Orders No. 1:

WHEELING, W. Va., Feb. 12, 1900. Having been named as chief marshal to command the parade in the city of Wheeling on the 22nd day of February, 1900, I accept the appointment, and now issue this, my first order:

General Order No. 1.

The following named persons will constitute my personal staff and will be obeyed and respected accordingly, viz:

George J. Mathison, colonel—first assistant general and chief of staff.

W. W. Irwin, lieutenant colonel—first assistant adjutant general.

L. N. Reeder, major—second assistant adjutant general.

W. H. Travis, colonel—inspector general.

J. A. Miller, colonel—quartermaster general.

Louis Steenrod, lieutenant colonel—assistant quartermaster general.

Alfred Pauli, colonel—commissary general.

T. C. Moffat, lieutenant colonel—assistant commissary general.

Guy R. C. Allen, lieutenant colonel—judge advocate general.

Dr. W. A. Cracraft, colonel—surgeon general.

Dr. H. B. Baguley, lieutenant colonel—first assistant surgeon general.

Dr. J. A. Campbell, lieutenant colonel—second assistant surgeon general.

F. H. Lange, colonel—chief of artillery.

I. F. Jones, lieutenant colonel—assistant chief of artillery.

Dr. Oscar Burdette, lieutenant colonel—chief of ordnance.

Paul Reymann, colonel—paymaster general.

G. R. C. Gilchrist, colonel—assistant paymaster general.

Geoff. A. Robinson, colonel—chief engineer.

Rev. Jacob Brittingham, lieutenant colonel—chaplain.

L. Echols, trumpeter.

Aides-de-camp—Dwight H. Wagner, with rank of lieutenant colonel, in charge, and the following named persons, with the rank of major, viz: Harry Franksheim, Reymann Seabright, James Maxwell, Leland Molain, Edward Stifel, Dr. R. H. Reed, E. B. Bowie, M. J. Allen, M. Thornton, J. Edward Hughes, Albert Wilkie, Louis F. Stifel, C. P. Flick, J. W. Bwing, Bernie McLure, Peabody Tatum, M. Dolan, Edward Hester, Edward Stalmer, J. L. Bawelle, William Higgins, Samuel Brookmeyer, J. J. Holloway, Charles C. Newman, D. Barrer Evans.

Lieutenant Colonel Steenrod and Major Hester are assigned to duty with division, under command of Division Commander Herkheimer.

The following gentlemen have been appointed as division commanders, who will respectively select five aides, and report their names to me as soon as practicable: Morris Herkheimer, Caleb Sylvia, William H. Anderson, Thomas H. Norton, James H. Lancaster, J. F. Partridge, Bernard Bach, Thomas Mayberry, Dr. G. A. Aschmann, Joseph Speidel, Dr. William Parrie.

All officers on the staff of the grand marshal will wear black clothes and black soft hats, military style. The chief marshal will wear buff coat and buff breeches, indicating office. All staff officers above the rank of aides-de-camp will wear blue and buff coats, extending over right shoulder to left hip, with buff and buff breeches. Aides-de-camp will wear blue and buff coats, doubled and tied around waist, with buff and buff breeches, with buff and buff breeches. Commanders of divisions will wear a deep blue scarf, extending from right shoulder to hip, with buff and buff breeches. All aides on staff of division commanders will wear blue coats, doubled around waist and tied at left hip.

ROBERT WHITE, Grand Marshal, Commanding.

The Intelligencer congratulates Colonel White upon the selections he has made. Many efficient and experienced hands are called to his assistance in handling the immense body of marchers who will do honor to Dewey on Thursday of next week in this city. The colonel has not yet announced the route of the parade or the make-up of the column; these will come later, but it is believed the route will not be below Twenty-seventh street nor above Seventh. A longer march would overtax the strength of some of the older paraders, which the chief marshal does not desire to be responsible for.

Division Marshal Morris Herkheimer has announced the following staff appointments:

Adjutant—James K. Hall.

Aides—John K. List, Lewis Steenrod, Edward Franzheim, Frank Church, Edward Hazlett.

The other division commanders will appoint their staffs and report the appointments to the chief marshal as soon as practicable.

Badges indicating the rank of the aides, division marshals, etc., have been ordered by the "Dewey Day" general committee, and will be here early next week. They will be placed in the hands of Adjutant General George J. Mathison, from whom the officers can obtain them.

All officers and aides are expected to furnish their own horses, scarfs, leggings and gloves.

Arrival of Dewey.

Chairman T. M. Garvin, of the general committee, yesterday received a letter from Admiral Dewey, stating that he will come on the train reaching Wheeling at 10:30 p. m., February 21. The letter is as follows:

OFFICE OF THE ADMIRAL, 1745 Rhode Island Avenue.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 12, 1900.

Dear Sir:—Your letters of the 5th and 7th instant are noted upon my return to the city, and in reply I have to state that

Mr. Dewey and I will prefer to leave Washington by the train reaching Wheeling at 10:30 p. m. on the 21st, and will be accompanied by my aide, Lieutenant H. H. Caldwell. It will be perfectly agreeable to us to be accompanied by Lieutenant Doddridge in the car. We shall return from Wheeling to Washington, and would prefer to come on the train leaving Wheeling at 10:30 a. m. on the 22nd.

With reference to the proposed reception, my health is not such as to permit of my attending a reception and a banquet on the same evening. I have already promised to attend the banquet of the Sons of the Revolution, but if the committee should prefer to substitute for this a reception, say between 3 and 5 o'clock, I shall interpose no objection.

Very truly yours,
GEORGE DEWEY.
T. M. Garvin, Esq., Wheeling, W. Va.

More Acceptances.

Chairman Garvin yesterday received the acceptance of Powell lodge No. 8, of the tin plate workers, and Superintendent W. H. Anderson reported that there will be a good representation from the city schools in the parade.

The Speaking Stands.

Yesterday, Messrs. Giesey & Paris, architects, finished plans for the speaking stands on Chapline street, and in the afternoon they were submitted to the committee on arrangements by Mr. Fred Paris, of the firm. They provide for the main speaking stand to be erected just in front of the fountain, and flanked on either side by stands for distinguished guests, each with a capacity of seating 250 persons. Immediately in front of the speakers' stand is a press box, with a capacity to seat fifty persons. Everything is to be built substantially, with a fence at the front that will prevent the stands being swamped by the multitude. Entrance will be through the city building's west entrance. It was estimated that the stands complete would cost $400. Chairman Waterhouse, of the finance committee, said $250 had been appropriated for this purpose, and if possible the cost will be brought within this figure. On the other hand these stands should be sufficiently large and attractive and handsomely decorated, for here will gather an immense crowd, and a small, cramped stand poorly decorated would be a reflection on the city. Mr. Paris was instructed to receive bids to-day, and these will be reported to the committee on arrangements to-morrow.

The Finances.

Chairman John Waterhouse, of the finance committee, last evening reported the following additional subscriptions for Tuesday:

Previously reported ..... $3,207.00

People's Bank ..... 25.00

L. S. Good & Co. .... 5.00

J. B. Rhodes & Co. .... 5.00

L. Whit ..... 5.00

Total ..... $3,247.00

The committee will be out again to-day, and the fund will be increased to $2,500, which is needed. Persons and firms desiring to contribute, who have not been seen, are asked to send checks to Chairman Waterhouse.

The Speaking.

The "Dewey Day" committee on arrangements has completed the speaking programme. It is as follows:

Opening Prayer ..... Rev. D. A. Cunningham, D. D.

Chorus ..... "America"

Presentation of the Port Henry Tablet on Behalf of the State ..... Mr. T. M. Garvin

Acceptance, on Behalf of the City of Wheeling ..... Judge G. L. Cranmer

Chorus ..... "Star Spangled Banner"

Historical Oration on Fort Henry ..... Mr. C. W. Brookmeyer

Musical Offering ..... Mr. C. W. Brookmeyer

Presentation of Sword to Lieutenant Doddridge ..... Rabbi Harry Levi

Admiral Dewey Hands the Sword to Lieut. Doddridge

Acceptance ..... Lieut. John S. Doddridge

Chorus ..... "Columbia, Gem of the Ocean"

The selections of speakers are excellent, and a very enjoyable function is anticipated. The speaking will begin immediately at the conclusion of the parade, probably about 2 o'clock.

Cotts is Released.

Yesterday morning, W. J. Cotts was released from the county jail, upon bond being given in the sum of $1,205, twice the amount of the fine and costs due from Cotts on his conviction as a barrator last year. James L. Hawley is surety on the bond.

It is a Common Mistake to Over-Eat Grape-Nuts.

Letters are coming from all over the country saying that the writers have been led to eat double or more than double the allowance of Grape-Nuts because of the fascinating flavor.

The result of overeating this food is the same as in overeating candy, or any other delicacy, the system gets more than it requires, and there follows a spellings against it for a time.

Confine your allowance of Grape-Nuts to three heaping teaspoons for the cereal part of your meal, and the food will be a daily delight to you.

If you have been overeating, try Grape-Nuts in the proper quantity, and, our word for it, you will stick to them, and obtain day by day the valuable elements or particles which nature uses to rebuild and nourish the brain and nervous centers all over the body. A definite feeling of strength and reserve power comes with the use of this food.

Have the cook dry it in a pan in the oven if it has been exposed to, and gathered moisture from, the air. Grape-Nuts should be crisp and brittle.

CARROLL CLUB ELECTS

Directors, All But One of the Old Board Being Re-elected.

At a meeting of the Carroll Club stockholders, held last evening, all but one of the old directors were re-elected. The retiring director is General T. S. Riley. The new directorate is made up of the following: M. J. McFadden, Frank Gruse, P. J. Green, Albert Wilkie, G. W. Lutz, W. C. Handlan, Albert Welty, G. A. Truschel, Edward P. Hughes.

After the business session, the stockholders adjourned to the lower floor, where the "good time smoker" was held. Speeches were made by Colonel Thomas O'Brien, Frank Gruse, George J. Mathison, John J. Coniff, John Gaus and others. Andrew and Charles Ray recited effectively.

This evening, the ladies of the Carroll Club give one of their enjoyable euchre parties.

The Pittsburgh Orchestra.

The season of concerts in Carnegie Music Hall, Pittsburgh, under Mr. Herbert's direction, is fast drawing to a close, after this week only three sets of concerts remaining to be given. The orchestra this year, as is well known, is in such fine condition that the most critical opinion in New York awards it praise. The programme this week is one of much attractiveness and the soloist will be the first 'cello player of the orchestra, Mr. Louis Heine.

In full the list is:

Overture—"Le Roi d'Ys".....Lalo

For Violoncello and orchestra.....Bruch

(a) Kol Nidrei ..... Bruch

(b) Scherzo ..... Klengel

Symphony (new) ..... Henry K. Hadley

Scherzo for strings ..... Volkmann

Cello Solo by Mr. Heine.

Suite—"Carmen" ..... Bizet

Sent to Jail.

In Justice Greer's court, on the South Side, yesterday, the trial of George C. Laue was held. Laue was arrested on three warrants sworn out by his wife, Pauline Laue. He was charged with profanity, drunkenness and breach of the peace. On each of the first two charges he was fined $1 and costs, or given ten days in jail. On the last charge he was held on $100 bond to keep the peace for a year. Laue could produce no bond and was sent to jail in default.

Fined $5; Pays $145.

Constable John Barr, of Triadelphia, was fined $5 and costs yesterday by Squire Fitzpatrick, on complaint of Clinton Craft, of Triadelphia, who alleged assault and battery. The costs brought the bill up that Mr. Barr must pay to $145. There was a host of witnesses summoned, and it is doubtful if there was ever another petty case which had such a financial tail-piece in it for the loser.
